

ADVISORY NO-09 : EMERGENCY ADMISSIONS IN EMPANELLED HOSPITALS

1. Recently a study was carried out on the pattern of emergency admissions in empanelled hospitals. The study revealed alarmingly high percentage of emergency admissions (ranging between 70 to 95 percent) in some hospitals. Such high levels of emergency admission lead to apprehension regarding mal/unethical practices creeping into the system of ECHS healthcare delivery.
2. In view of the above, it is requested that Stn Cdrs be advised to be more vigilant and incase a hospital persists with such practices despite caution/adequate warning then case for disempanelment and or reporting the malpractices to MC/regulatory authorities be initiated.
